

Introducing Intelligent Cross-Sell Recommendations with Quick Quotes on AIG eXtra

We are delighted to introduce a cutting-edge innovation on AIG eXtra, our e-trading platform. Designed to streamline workflows and unlock growth opportunities, Intelligent Cross-Sell Recommendations with Quick Quotes is a new feature that utilises advanced analytics to instantly generate upfront pricing for products that are relevant to your clients.

When you submit a new business quote, perform a MTA or accept a renewal for one of our products on AIG eXtra, you'll now receive cross-sell recommendations and quick-quote pricing for complementary products utilising existing client data. Receiving quotes for multiple products across business lines on AIG eXtra has never been more straightforward or efficient.

Data-Driven Intelligence

Our cross-sell recommendations leverage advanced algorithms and data analytics to analyse industry trends and behaviours. By understanding what similar clients have purchased, we deliver tailored recommendations that will likely resonate with your clients' cover needs.

Upfront Pricing Clarity

Get accurate, transparent pricing faster than ever. With Quick Quotes, AIG eXtra generates upfront pricing for recommended cross-sell products. These default quick quotes, with just a few additional clicks, can be customised by adding additional cover sections and adjusting limits. Additionally, quick-quote pricing is dynamic and updates in real-time as you amend limits or add cover sections. With Quick Quotes, AIG eXtra provides a new level of insight into cross-sell possibilities to simplify your client conversations and accelerate decision-making.

Empowering Growth

Seize new product opportunities, cultivate deeper client relationships, and unlock fresh revenue streams. By providing intelligent cross-sell product recommendations, AIG eXtra empowers you to broaden your book of business.

Smarter Platform, Seamless Experience

At AIG, we are committed to continuously enhancing our e-trade platform to meet the evolving needs of our valued broker partners. With the introduction of Intelligent Cross-Sell Recommendations and Quick Quotes, our platform becomes not just smarter, but also more convenient and intuitive to use.

Dedicated Support

Our dedicated team of e-Trade Business Development Managers are here to support you every step of the way, from product onboarding and training to ongoing support and optimisation.

Intelligent Cross-Sell Recommendations

At launch, cross-sell recommendations will be generated for three e-traded products:

- PrivateEdge Management Liability Insurance
- CyberEdge Cyber Insurance
- Lifeline Plus Rapid Quote Group Personal Accident & Business Travel Insurance

More products will be added as the feature becomes embedded on AIG eXtra. Only products available for your account will be displayed.

Quick Quotes provide upfront pricing that is based on the client risk information entered and suitable defaults. Customising a default quick quote is easy via a pop-up window. Pricing will update in real-time as cover limits and cover sections are amended.

Where there is insufficient data to generate a default quickquote price, a cross-sell product recommendation will be displayed without an indicative price.

A quick quote can be converted into a full policy quote by advancing through the question set and ensuring the default system generated responses are accurate.
